Surprise Witness Is Sprung In Norris Defense

TO VOTE TODAY ON SEATING OF SENATOR SMITH

Governor Small's Designee Makes Expected Bid for Recognition by Senate

LEGAL TECHNICALITIES MAKE DEBATE LENGTHY

Unofficial Canvass Shows Forty-Six Against, Thirty-Nine for Approval

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (P)—With only a few doubting that the answer would be in the negative, senators today debated for five and a half hours whether Frank Smith of Illinois even temporarily shall have a seat among them and then deferred a vote until tomorrow.

Unofficial polls made late in the day by some leaders showed 45 senators, mostly Democrat and Republican insurgents, against seating Smith, pending an investigation of his case, and 39 senators, including three Democrats and the Republican old guard, for administering the oath of office immediately and investigating him afterward.

Led by Senator Reed of Missouri, chairman of the campaign funds committee, one group sought to withhold the oath of office pending further inquiry into Smith's acceptance of large contributions from public utility interests during his campaign for the senatorial nomination last month. Reed argued that although Smith now was applying, not as an elected senator but as Governor Small's appointee to fill a vacancy, the senate already had before it evidence of fraud in "the whole transaction."

Democrats Divided
But this proposal did not command the solid Democratic support that had been claimed for it. Senator Overman, of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the judiciary committee, offered a substitute resolution which would seat the appointee "without prejudice" to any further inquiry into his fitness.

A third group, led by Senator Deneen of Illinois, and composed largely of Republican regulars, sought to have the oath of office administered with all question as to his qualifications left in abeyance.

A crowd rarely exceeded in senate history wedged itself into the galleries to see the opening of the fight, but as the debate began to flatten out into a succession of technical legal statements many of the spectators went home.

As Senator Bingham read on and on from a prepared manuscript, full of historical citations and technical arguments, the crowds in the gallery began to thin out, and many senators adjourned to the restaurants for luncheon.

Walsh Cites Precedent
Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, argued that both houses had established their claim to unlimited power in the matter of members' qualifications. In several cases, he said, including those growing out of the civil war, each house had asserted its right to "stop a member-elect at the threshold."

Opposing the administering of the oath to Smith, Senator Hefflin, Democrat, Alabama, said Smith's election had been obtained by "fraud and corruption" and the senate should not seat him.

The Alabama declared the senate would put itself in a "ridiculous" position if it seated Smith now and then "kicked him out" at the next session when he presented his credentials as a senator-elect.

Deluded Hope for Pardon Costs Man Appeal Privilege

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (P)—Because a "deluded hope for pardon" led him to withdraw his appeal, James Davis, convicted in Bell county of theft and given two years, can not again appeal his case, the court of criminal appeals held Wednesday.

Davis on December 30 withdrew an appeal he had filed, believing he could secure a pardon, the court order said. The court Wednesday refused to permit him again to file his appeal although he did not obtain the expected clemency.

The opinion, written by Judge O. S. Lattimore, said the "court must decline to be a party to any such transaction."

During the last six weeks of Miriam A. Ferguson's term as governor, a large number of appellants each Wednesday, court day, had their appeals dismissed, and many were granted clemency by Governor Ferguson. On January 12, thirty-five withdrew their appeals, and most of these were pardoned the last few days of Mrs. Ferguson's term.

REBELLION IN MEXICO SHOWS LESS STRENGTH

Officials Optimistic Over Final Outcome Rebels' Latest Outbreak

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19. (P)—Official circles here are optimistic over the final outcome of the rebellion in Mexico. This feeling is increased by the latest victories of the federals in the state of Jalisco and Durango and the fact that for several days one or two rebel leaders have daily been reported killed while others unconditionally surrendered.

Yesterday, Felipe Mendez and Jose Martinez, insurgent chieftains in the state of Guanajuato, where Mendez was operating, fell while fighting the federals.

General Cedillo, military commander for San Luis Potosi, reports that he ordered a mobilization of troops about motor lorries to Villa Arrias, Guanajuato, where Mendez was operating. Owing to "heavy co-operation from the arriaristas," he says, "the federals overtook the rebels at Rosario, killing Mendez and four others."

Martinez was killed in an encounter with troops commanded by Major Aragon at Huizata, Michoacan.

Five rebels were killed by federals under General Espinosa Contreras near San Antonio, in the state of Queretaro.

The war department also announced that fourteen rebels were killed, in addition to the rebel chieftain, Damaso Barrera, in the battle at San Bartolo, Durango, on Sunday. Three military columns are pursuing Tirso Corola, who fled with his forces when Barrera fell.

Gen. Francisco Manzo, military commander for Sonora, reported that the Yaqui Indians suffered "an unprecedented defeat" at Huatucachi. He says the Indians lost their best warriors, but does not mention the extent of the casualties to either side. Chief Natus of the Yaquis had a narrow escape, his horse being killed under him.

Body of Retired Financier Found in Deserted Lot

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 19. (P)—Minthorne Woolsey, 76, retired New York financier and resident of Waynesville, N. C., and this city, met death here early today from an undetermined cause. His body was found in a vacant lot by police. Woolsey, a native of Selma, Ala., was known familiarly to many as "Cardinal," a name given him by the New York Rotary club several years ago.

Police worked on the theory that Woolsey was killed by an automobile, death being instantaneous, as the result of a fractured skull. Lacerations about the face and body, and badly torn clothing indicated that the body had been dragged for some distance over the pavement and through the brush in the vacant lot. One shoe was found ten feet from the body while the other was missing.

Mrs. Woolsey, who had been wintering here for several seasons with her husband, declared he had attended a hypnotic performance in Miami last night. When he had not returned at midnight she called police who started the search. A gold watch and a small amount of money were found in Woolsey's pockets.

Woods Grants Pardons
MANILA, Jan. 19. (P)—Governor-General Wood today pardoned 30 convicts in various insular prisons. Among them was a widow who had violated the law by marrying within 300 days after the death of her first husband. The board of pardons was inclined to regard the law under which she was convicted as archaic.

Vare Probe Headliners

Senate investigation of the Pennsylvania senatorial election found both Senator-elect William Vare and William E. Wilson, who is contesting his right to seat, in Washington eager to testify. These pictures, taken as they appeared before the senatorial committee, show Vare and Mayor Kendrick of Philadelphia above, and Wilson and his daughter, Miss Agnes H. Wilson, who is her father's "right-hand man," below.

Carlotta, Former Empress Of Mexico, Long Bereft of Reason, Dies in Brussels

BRUSSELS, Jan. 19. (P)—The Belgian court went into 19 weeks' mourning today for Carlotta, the widow of Maximilian, once emperor of Mexico. She died at 7 o'clock this morning in the 87th year of a life that had been hardly more than a tragic haze since 1867. In that year, Maximilian was executed at Queretaro, Mexico, as the empress Carlotta, who was in Europe trying to gain aid for his unstable empire, lost her reason, never to recover it save in rare and infrequent moments, one of which came just before death.

On Saturday, the body will be taken to Laeken and there interred in the royal crypt among the resting places of Belgium's royal dead.

The funeral will be national in character and a large military display will be a feature of the obsequies.

HAIRSTON GETS FIFTEEN YEARS

One of Trio Held for Odell Bank Holdup Found Guilty in Trial at Vernon

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 19. (P)—James H. Hairston was found guilty on a charge of robbery with firearms in connection with the robbery of the Bank of Odell, December 18, and was sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary by a jury in the Forty-sixth district court this morning. Defense counsel has not indicated whether a new trial will be asked.

Hairston entered a plea of guilty at the opening of the trial. Clyde Stratton and Lyle Huffman, also indicted "for the robbery of the Odell bank," were arraigned in court this morning. Stratton pleaded guilty. Huffman pleaded not guilty and counsel asked for a change of venue. The action was overruled by the court, and the counsel immediately asked for continuance.

The three men are alleged to have looted the Odell bank of $7,000, and escaped after locking two employees and a patron in the bank vault.

Sinclair to Face Contempt Charges

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (P)—Harry F. Sinclair, oil operator will be arraigned in District of Columbia supreme court early next week on charges of contempt growing out of his refusal to answer questions of the senate oil committee. District Attorney Gordon announced today.

Sinclair, who obtained the lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, also is due to go on trial February 2 with Albert S. Fall, former secretary of the interior, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the Teapot Dome lease. Fall, however, is ill at El Paso, Texas.

BERLIN, Jan. 19. (P)—Reopening of the reichstag today after the Christmas recess finds Germany without a new cabinet to succeed the Marx ministry which had over the holidays following its defeat and resignation in December.

Arbitration Considered In Mexican Controversy But no Action is Taken

TESTIMONY IN BANK CASE IS UNDER WAY

Jury Selection Completed and Identification of Books is Begun

By Stanley Caldwell
Staff Correspondent, The News
BONHAM, Jan. 19.—Testimony in the case of E. H. McGlasson, on trial in the district court of Tarrant county, began Wednesday afternoon, after the completion of the examination of talesmen and the selection of the jury in the morning session. The testimony centered chiefly around the identification of the books of the First State bank of Paris which were brought into the court. Six witnesses were examined, three of whom were former employees of the bank and the other three members of the state banking department.

At the opening of the testimony the state introduced a certified copy of the charter of the First State bank as evidence. The state attempted to introduce a copy of an amended charter, but an objection for its exclusion, entered by the defense, was sustained.

Oran Carter, member of the state banking department, was the first witness to testify. Mr. Carter in examination stated that he came to Paris May 26, the bank having been closed the previous day, and took over the books and assets. The records, he testified, were left intact and he turned them over to A. P. Ford, liquidating agent of the banking department.

Mr. Ford, next placed on the stand, testified that he with members of a committee of the stockholders, went over the assets of the bank for their appraisal with reorganization of the bank in view. He said that McGlasson was present at some of the meetings. Ford testified that he was in charge of the bank three weeks and that he turned over to George Embury, of the banking department, the entire assets and liabilities.

Mr. Embury, the next witness, who has been in charge of the bank since, identified bank books as those left under his charge by Ford.

Miss Willie Pinson, formerly employed in the bank, identified minutes prepared by her, showing closing of the bank as ordered by the board of directors of the institution. Also she identified the record in the minutes of January, 1926, showing that E. H. McGlasson was elected vice president of the bank for the ensuing year.

Luther Howerton, formerly receiving and paying teller of the First State bank, was examined in connection with the identification of the books. The witness identified the general ledger of the bank but was not sure as to the identity of those presented. He testified that McGlasson was in the bank during May 25, 1926, the day upon which the bank closed.

Howerton testified that T. J. Quinn, a patron of the bank, was in the bank on May 25. Upon further examination he said that he was unable to recall if he received a deposit from Quinn. He testified that several in the bank received deposits among whom were Coleman and McGlasson.

After the testimony of Howerton court adjourned until 7 o'clock in the evening, for the purpose of hearing the testimony of Luther Higgs.

Higgs, formerly employed in the bookkeeping department of the bank, testified concerning the identification of the books. He identified those presented as those of the First State bank.

Four Killed in Mine Explosion

WELCH, W. Va., Jan. 19. (P)—Four miners were believed to have been killed in an explosion in the central Pocahontas coal company mine at Caples today. Seven other miners, at work near where the blast centered, were uninjured. They were brought out by rescue crews.

The four men unaccounted for were members of a machine coal cutting crew. The explosion occurred in the region where these men were working. Volunteer rescue crews went into action at once, in an attempt to locate the victims.

It was a cosmopolitan crowd. High state officials, legislators, former officials, including ex-governors, business and professional people, wage earners—all thronged the capitol and the hotel dances. No more than a third of the guests were evening clothes.

The dances were well populated until they broke up at about 4 o'clock this morning. The immense jams made dancing difficult.

NEW LATIN-AMERICAN TROUBLE IS POSSIBLE
SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 19. (P)—The charge that Peru, after refusing to enter any form of settlement of the Tacna-Arica problem, is again against Chile is made in the editorial columns of La Nacion.

The paper says the problem has ceased to be only between neighboring countries and now affects the tranquility of the whole continent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (P)—Although Secy. Kellogg has announced that he has been giving consideration to application of the principle of arbitration of the Mexican controversy, it was made clear today at the state department that no move in that direction has been made by the Washington government.

There was no indication that any official offer of arbitration had been received from President Calles of Mexico, who, in the opinion of some officials at least, would be expected to express a willingness to approach the oil and land question from that angle if it is to be undertaken.

At the state department, Secy. Kellogg's attitude toward arbitration which was proposed in a resolution yesterday by Sen. Robinson, was said to be one of complete willingness to have the advice of the senate on the subject, but without commitments as to whether he would accept an offer of arbitration if it were made by the Mexican president.

BONNER ABSENT FROM CLASS ON DAY BOMB SENT

University of Texas Professor Says Engineering Student Missed Only Quiz

CORPUS CHRISTI, Jan. 19. (P)—Records of the University of Texas and the recollections of classmates were presented today as circumstantial evidence in the prosecution's attempt to prove that Frank Bonner, young San Antonio radio engineer murdered his prospective father-in-law in 1923 with a charge of dynamite. Bonner is being tried for the murder here of J. A. Barnes, whose daughter he later married.

E. M. Gafford, an instructor in electrical engineering at the University of Texas testified that he gave a quiz on the day on which the State alleges Bonner came to San Antonio to put the infernal machine addressed to J. A. Barnes in the express office. Bonner, Gafford said, did not turn in a paper for that examination. Gafford refused to say, however, that Bonner was absent. He said that he was not marked absent but that was the only day during the course in which Bonner's name was followed by a blank in the column where the grades were recorded.

Joe Macken, a contractor who built the biology laboratory at the University of Texas, testified that the tool house used in constructing the building was broken open a few days before the murder and that 35 or 36 sticks of dynamite were taken and about a box and a half of dynamite caps. His testimony was corroborated by an Austin detective.

James Clark, son of Bonner's landlady, while Bonner was at the university testified that he and Bonner had experimented in 1920 or 1921 to discover a method of exploding dynamite caps and that they succeeded in accomplishing this by using an ordinary dry cell. The Clark home, he said, was about two blocks from the biology laboratory.

Previous witnesses have testified that the package supposed to have contained the bomb was delivered to the office of the express company in San Antonio by a Mexican boy, Juan Morales, who is expected to testify today. The package bore the name of G. M. Cone as the sender, and gave his address as 1113 S. Flores street, San Antonio.

G. M. Cone of Lubbock was called to the stand today and testified that he had roomed in Austin for two months in 1922. He said that while he and Bonner were not very friendly, they never had any trouble.

GOVERNOR AND WIFE TO MOVE TO MANSION TODAY

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (P)—Governor and Mrs. Dan Moody, the youngest couple chosen by Texas to occupy its executive mansion, Wednesday paid their first visit together to the Lone Star state's "White House." They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. George Paxton of Abilene, Mrs. Moody's parents.

Because of the press of office duties, Moody had not planned to go with his wife, but she insisted "for good luck" that they enter their home together. They likely will move into the mansion Thursday.

Support State Museum
AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (P)—A memorial supporting the bill of Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston for a State museum, has been addressed to the fortieth legislature by President W. M. V. Spahn of the University of Texas and faculty members.

Replaces "Ma"

Texas has gone back to the idea of having a "first lady" who confines her activities to first ladying, and doesn't try to govern—and here she is, Mrs. Dan Moody, wife of the new governor, who takes "Ma" Ferguson's place, is shown in the gown she wore at her husband's inaugural ball at Austin.

CHAPLIN SUFFERS NERVE COLLAPSE

Friends of Screen Comedian Worried as Wife Presses Suit for Funds

NEW YORK, Jan. 19. (P)—Friends of Charlie Chaplin, who has suffered a nervous breakdown, were more concerned about him today.

Dr. Gustav J. E. Tieck, the attending nerve specialist, reported his condition as "not so good." Dr. Tieck said Chaplin had no solid food for two days, his diet consisting of thin soups and broth, and he was so weak he could hardly stand.

The comedian, who remains at the home of his attorney, Nathan Burkan, suffered a spell of depression last night similar to the one that sent him to bed on Sunday.

Publicity attendant upon his wife's divorce suit is responsible for Chaplin's condition, says Dr. Tieck.

Arthur Kelly of United Artists, Chaplin's general manager in the East, said:

"In court or out of court Chaplin must be cleared of the charges brought against him by Mrs. Chaplin."

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19. (P)—Receivers for the Chaplin Studios, Inc., reported to Judge Juerin in court this afternoon that Charles Chaplin has cash of nearly $1,000,000 available in banks in England and the United States, whereupon the court set that amount for the bond to be posted for the lifting of the receivership.

Old Masonic Hall Burns at Blossom

Blossom lost one of its real landmarks when the two-story building which formerly housed the Masonic lodge was destroyed by fire of unknown origin at 2:45 Wednesday morning. Two other one-story frame buildings also being burned. One was used as a blacksmith shop and the other as a grist mill.

A two-story building, occupied by Gossett's grocery, was damaged somewhat, but a bucket brigade checked the spread of the flames. Paris firemen who went to the scene in response to the call from Blossom found the flames under control.

This is one of several disastrous fires the town has suffered in recent months, and the Paris department has sent aid each time.

HARDWARE DEALERS MAKE NACOGDOCHES MAN CHIEF

DALLAS, Jan. 19. (P)—Carl Monk, Nacogdoches, today was elected president of the Texas hardware and implement association, and F. N. Schatz of Chisholm was named vice-president of the organization.

The association began its annual meeting here yesterday.

SAYS SAW TWO MEN APPROACH NORRIS' CHURCH

Man Identified as Companion Expected to Testify at Today's Hearing

OPERATOR TELLS OF PHONE CONVERSATION

Woman Tells of Conversation Between Chipps and Meacham, Containing Threat

COURTROOM, Austin, Jan. 19. (P) Two men mounted the stairway leading to Dr. J. Frank Norris' office on the afternoon, last July 17 and one of them went to his death, according to testimony in the Norris murder trial here today. The other man, Dr. L. Redmon, of Ft. Worth, emerged today as the surprise witness of the defense. He is said to be one of three men who last saw Chipps alive. The other two are Norris and L. H. Nutt, eye witness.

The court awaited with expectancy the testimony of Redmon, which may come tomorrow.

R. E. Ridgeway, an attorney of Ft. Worth and a member of Norris' church, testified he sat in his auto near Norris' office that afternoon waiting for his wife who worked on "The Searchlight," the Norris church publication.

Two men passed him just a few minutes before Chipps was shot, he said. Ridgeway was in a position to see half way up, stairway leading to the church offices on the second floor of the building adjoining the First Baptist church of Ft. Worth.

"One man was large and dressed in a dark suit," Ridgeway testified. "The other man was smaller and he was in shirt sleeves. The smaller man appeared to be giving the other one directions. When they got opposite the stairway, the large man said:

"Well how in hell will I know him when I see him?"

"The large man was D. E. Chippe and the other was E. L. Redmon," Ridgeway testified he went immediately up to Norris' office as soon as he heard the shots and Norris said to him:

"I hated it mighty bad, but I had to do it."

This was apparently an attempt by defense to impeach the testimony of Mrs. Roxie Parker, star state witness who testified she saw the killing from a door of Norris' office.

Ridgeway said he did not see a woman so up or come down the stairway.

This testimony was the high spot of the day, devoted to presenting further details of the killing. One of the details was a telephone conversation Chipps was alleged to have had with Dr. Norris just before the lumberman went on the fatal mission to Dr. Norris' study. Mrs. Fanny Greer, former phone operator at the Westbrook hotel in Ft. Worth, said that she made a connection at her switchboard.

Details Conversation
She said Meacham called Chipps, about two hours before the latter was killed.

"Tell what the conversation was," Simpson said.

The state objected and defense withdrew the question "until later." Simpson switched to the conversation with Norris, which the witness said came about two hours after the Meacham conversation.

"Chipps called from his room and asked me to get Dr. Norris on the line and I called Dr. Norris at the church. Some girl answered first and then Dr. Norris came on the line."

"Chipps said hello, Dr. Norris."

Warden Wounded But Recaptures Three Convicts

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 19. (P) A doughy prison superintendent who borrowed a pistol, outdistanced his posse and with the aid of a one-eyed trusty fought with pistols to capture three escaped convicts, battled for his life.

J. S. Blitch, state superintendent of prisons suffered from pistol wounds in the cheek and abdomen, but the prisoners were back at the Raiford State Farm.

At House, serving a seventy-year sentence for robbery, Lew Williams and Albert Thomas, negro, escaped Monday at the lunch hour as wardens were assigning prisoners to work. Blitch and Major Highsmith, the one-eyed trusty, overtook the men at Baxter, near the Georgia line. The fugitives opened fire from behind an automobile.

Blitch stopped two bullets but advanced. He shot Thomas twice and Williams once and the negro surrendered forthwith. Blitch, weakened by loss of blood, paused.

The trusty added the finishing touches. Armed with a formidable club, Highsmith crowded their assailants and beat them into submission. Members of a posse then came on the scene and took the prisoners into custody.

DEMONSTRATION CLUBS VISITED

County Worker Reports New Club at Hearn and Progress Made by Others

Miss Lida Cooper, home demonstration agent for the county, went Tuesday afternoon to the Hearn community, between Midway and Howland, in the southern part of county, to meet with the women's club which was organized there about a month ago, with eight members.

She reports the club a most enthusiastic body, and all members, with six school girls, very much interested in the demonstration she gave of the kitchen prepared in a steam pressure cooker. The school, of which Miss Ola Bryson is teacher, is not large enough to have a home economics class, but the girls were as much interested in the work as the older women.

The meal prepared included a hen, creamed onions, sweet potatoes and rice pudding, which with cole slaw, formed a well balanced menu.

Monday, Miss Cooper met with the Viewpoint club at the school, Mrs. Finn presiding. After a lively round table discussion on poultry and dairying, the ladies served chocolate and cake.

The reports from over the county indicate a renewal of interest in the work since the holidays, and the entries for the kitchen improvement contest are all in. The entrants have until May 1 to complete their improvements.

The agent was scheduled to visit Liberty and Hudsonville Wednesday and Caviness on Thursday. She has 33 clubs now organized in the county, and must visit each of them once a month. Each Saturday is spent in her office for conference with representatives from the clubs and the transaction of other business.

DIRECT LOANS TO VETERANS SOUGHT

Hines Asks Authority for Lending on Certificates From Bureau Funds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19. (AP)—Authority for making direct loans on veterans' bonus certificates will be sought by Director Hines of the veterans' bureau, who made plans today to have the necessary legislation introduced in congress.

After a call at the White House today, General Hines said he would center immediately with Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee, and Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee.

Under the plan discussed today at the White House the veterans' bureau would serve merely as a supplementary agency to the banks, making the loans in localities where veterans are unable to obtain money from the banks. General Hines, however, would place no limitation upon the power of the bureau to grant the loans in any instance, if the veterans preferred to deal with the government rather than the banks.

It would be necessary, the director said, for the bureau to charge a rate of 6 per cent interest so as not to jeopardize transactions already entered into by the banks at a similar rate. He told the president that 17,000 loans had been made by the banks on the 3,000,000 certificates which acquired loan values on January 1.

General Hines said the bureau has money to make the loans and only slight additional appropriations would be required to meet the increased administrative costs.

SALVATION ARMY PARTY TO WELCOME NEW CHIEF

Mrs. Stella S. VanDyke, officer in charge of the Salvation Army here, and Lieuts. Deborah Rice and Gussora Lindsay, with Mrs. VanDyke's family and Miss Desda Hood, will go to Dallas today to attend a gathering of Salvation Army workers at headquarters, to welcome the new commissioner for the Southern territory, William Mayhew.

The new headquarters for this division are located at Atlanta, Ga., and a training college for Salvation Army workers is to be established there, besides an office for the publication of the "War Cry."

LIFE TERM GIVEN IN ROBBERY CASE

Alleged Participant in Sensational Dallas Drug Store Robbery Found Guilty

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 19. (AP)—A jury in the case of H. R. Griffin, charged with robbery with firearms, returned a verdict of "guilty" here today after being out about ten minutes, and assessed a penalty of 99 years in the state penitentiary.

Griffin was indicted in connection with a daring holdup of a drug store here about ten days ago.

When the jury's verdict was read, Griffin's head dropped into his hands, while his mother, who sat beside him throughout the trial, burst into tears. The audience which packed the courtroom was silent.

No announcement as to an appeal was made by defense counsel, headed by John Tipps, former district attorney.

C. E. Frazier, 42 year old, married, and a father, is scheduled to go to trial in the same court Thursday morning in connection with the same robbery, one of the most sensational in Dallas recently.

Witnesses in Griffin's trial testified that as Griffin and his companion covered the drug store proprietor with pistols and emptied the cash register, a passerby saw through a window that a robbery was in progress and notified the watchman at an ice skating establishment nearby. When the robbers ran from the store, the watchman engaged them in a running gun battle, in which one of the men was wounded. The bandit automobile was abandoned, and by checking its number police were able to apprehend Griffin and his companion, who were asleep in their room.

Three States Vie Custody of Man

JOPLIN, Mo., Jan. 19. (AP)—Authorities of three states today are vying for the custody of Ray Terrill and Herman Barker, alleged notorious bank bandits and gangsters, who were captured near here Monday in a gun fight with police following an attempt to rob the First National bank of Jasper.

Both men are wanted for bank and jewelry robberies in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. Oklahoma authorities, who are here with warrants for the prisoners, have identified them in connection with a $40,000 bank robbery at Sapulpa, a burglary at Muskogee, jewelry robbery at McAlester and Bristow and Terrill is wanted for jail deliveries at Sallisaw and Ardmore. Terrill also is under a 20 year prison sentence from Pawnee for bank robbery.

They also were wanted for bank robbery at Whitewater, Kas., and Rogersville, Mo. Police officials have not decided to whom they will surrender the prisoners.

said, "who is this?" Chippis said it didn't make any difference and cursed. He asked if Norris was going to be in for about 30 minutes and Dr. Norris said he could wait two hours and thirty minutes if necessary. Norris again asked Chippis who he was and was told him.

At this point Mrs. Greer left the line and Chippis returned Chippis was talking so angrily she could not make out what he was saying.

The defense again offered the Meacham telephone conversation and the state's objection again was sustained.

Mrs. Greer said she and her mother were in Hot Springs, Ark., when summoned in the trial and that she made a written statement there to some one about the case.

Attorney McLean, reading from grand jury testimony, asked Mrs. Greer if she did not deny before the grand jury that Chippis cursed Norris on the telephone. She replied she had testified she didn't hear Chippis curse Dr. Norris simply heard him curse someone. "Didn't you testify there was no cursing of any kind in that telephone conversation?" McLean asked, still referring to the grand jury record.

"I may have," she answered. The records as read by McLean showed Mrs. Greer had testified that she heard no cursing of any kind in the Chippis-Norris conversation.

Mrs. Greer said Chippis and Norris were talking calmly at first. "When Norris said he couldn't understand Chippis' name wasn't that when Chippis raised his voice?" McLean asked. "Not at first, but later," the witness said. "You are very friendly to Dr. Norris, aren't you?"

"I'm a member of his church." "That's not the question." "Yes, I'm friendly."

Mrs. Greer said a Hot Springs attorney advised her to return to Texas to testify but didn't know who had hired this lawyer.

"Now lets see whether you ran off or not," said Attorney Simpson, when the witness was turned back to the defense.

"Did you slip off and go to Hot Springs or did you get on the train and go with your mother?" "I went with my mother."

"Did you try to dodge service?" "No."

Attorneys argued about a statement Harry Hamilton, Tarrant county detective, was said to have obtained from Mrs. Greer at Hot Springs. Defense wanted to go into circumstances of how the statement was obtained. McLean objected because he said the state was merely laying a predicate to impeach the witness and that evidence of the circumstances was inadmissible. Attorney Dayton Moses said the statement had been obtained by intimidation and that part of the statement already had been admitted and that all the circumstances should be admitted.

Objection Sustained. State's objection to going into the circumstances of the statement was sustained.

Mrs. Greer said she telephoned her husband from Hot Springs "because of the way Harry Hamilton had talked to me and I wanted advice."

When McLean objected to a purported conversation by Mrs. Greer with Attorney Simpson over the telephone, Judge Hamilton sustained the objection.

Another Woman Testifies Mrs. Lena Cheek testified to a conversation alleged to have occurred between Chippis and Mayor Meacham in the elevator in Meacham's department store.

She said she was in the elevator when Chippis and Meacham entered. Chippis held a Searchlight, Norris' church paper, in his hand. He called Meacham's attention to an article attacking the mayor.

DISAPPEARANCE OF BISHOP A MYSTERY

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 19. (AP)—The mystery as to the whereabouts of Bishop Pascual Diaz, of Tabasco, continues, with the department of interior asserting that it is without confirmation of press dispatches that he was denied admission to Guatemala. The bishop, who is secretary of the Mexican episcopate, was arrested in Mexico City a week ago and taken away under guard.

There are unconfirmed reports that he is being taken to his diocese in the state of Tabasco, where he will be prevented from participating in religious activities. The state laws of Tabasco require clergymen to marry, and the bishop's refusal to comply was given as the reason for his protracted absence from his diocese.

Murder Convicts Pardoned AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (AP)—Seven men convicted of murder were among those given full pardons by former Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson shortly before she left office.

A deep-sea diver walked on the bottom of the Elizabeth river from Portsmouth to Norfolk, Va., a distance of more than a mile, in 50 minutes recently.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrials Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! How good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dizziness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

SEEK PREVENTION OF NEW RED RIVER BRIDGE

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (AP)—Rehearing on application for writ of error was sought in an application filed late Tuesday in the Supreme court by Stanley J. Vaughn of Wichita Falls and others, plaintiffs in an injunction suit against the State Highway commission to prevent erection of a bridge across Red river.

Stanley and other citizens of Wichita county sought to prevent the highway commission, composed, when the suit was filed, of Hal Mosley, John Case and Joe Burkett, from spending state funds in the proposed Texas-Oklahoma Wichita county Red river bridge. The Travis county 53rd district court granted application for temporary injunction, the court of civil appeals reversed the decision, and application of the plaintiffs for writ of error before the supreme court was denied. At present there is no state highway commission.

Representatives May See Prisons

AUSTIN, Jan. 19. (AP)—Proposals were made from the house floor Wednesday that the entire body of 130 representatives visit the central group of Texas prisons preliminary to consideration of measures providing for relocation of the system.

The question probably will be threshed out Thursday when Chairman Satterwhite of the house penitentiary committee will explain his resolution and send the committee on an inspection trip.

No session was held today by the senate which will reconvene Thursday morning. A dozen or more new bills were introduced Wednesday, among them another measure seeking a new state board of education of nine members with six year terms overlapping and with authority to elect state superintendents.

Waxed or oiled cloths for cleaning should be washed in soda solution and rinsed thoroughly.

Thrift Is a Personal Asset

This is National Thrift Week. Thrift, diligently practiced, is a foundation for future employment. As such, the foundation deserves to be built systematically.

Thrift is judiciously retaining the pennies so that the dollars may take care of themselves. Thus fortunes are built.

Thrift is buying wisely, not stingily, and paying as you go. Thrift comes not alone from low prices, but more definitely from quality and service.

Thrift is a personal and a family duty—and that this duty may be achieved, the store with which you entrust your patronage must be so organized that it can be helpful to you in attaining the object of your economy.

FINNELL ACCEPTS CHURCH ERECTION DEPARTMENT POST

Minister of First Christian Church Goes to St. Louis as Associate Head

Rev. J. Leslie Finnell, minister for more than six years of the First Christian church, has accepted a call to become the associate head of the Church Erection department of the United Christian Missionary Society, whose offices are in St. Louis.

MOTHERS NEED HELP AFTER STORK'S VISIT

Women are often robbed of the happiness Motherhood should bring, because of a weakened and run-down condition which often follows this wonderful event of bringing a new life into the world.

Nature foreseeing this, provided certain roots and herbs of peculiar strengthening properties, such as Blessed Thistle, Blue Cohosh Root, Squaw Vine, Life Root Plant, Helonias Root, Star Grass, Cramp Bark, etc., which the makers of St. Joseph's G. F. P. combined into a vegetable compound and which women and girls have been using for more than fifty years.

How successful G. F. P. is proving is best shown by the words of thousands of women and girls who are now coming out in public to praise it. Mrs. Pearl Conn, of 7639 Avenue F, Houston, Texas, says, "I started using G. F. P. right after my baby came and now I am as strong and healthy as I ever was. I wish every young Mother knew about St. Joseph's G. F. P."

Women have used St. Joseph's G. F. P. for over 50 years!

TERRIBLE PAIN

Alabama Lady Tells How She Obtained Relief by Taking Cardui. Feels Fine and Enjoys Life Now, She Says.

Talladega, Ala.—Mrs. Mary Hardy, 406 Henderson Avenue, this city, says that seven years ago she "got down sick" and was unable to attend to her household. "I have never been so weak before or since," she says. "I had a terrible pain in my side—so sore in my side and the lower part of my body. "Across my back ached, and I was so nervous I couldn't stand up. I had just about given up when some one who came to see me began talking about Cardui. This caused me to get it. I took about two bottles before I saw much improvement. "After this, though, I picked up right away. I slept better at night. I was hungry, enjoyed my food, which I hadn't done for some time. "The pain and soreness gradually left my side. I regained my strength. I took about six bottles and left off for awhile, then took two or three more. I feel just fine, enjoy life and can work now, too. "Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. It has helped thousands of suffering women and should help you, too. NC-169

Louis. He will take up his new duties not later than April 1. The church erection board had its beginning 38 years ago with only $30,000 to lend churches needing help to complete their buildings. George W. Muckley of Kansas City, Mo., was called to take charge of this work. He never loaned more than two-fifths the value of a church building and required a first mortgage as security. The loans had to be returned in five annual installments with interest at 6 per cent. This fund has grown, augmented by offerings from churches, until it now totals more than $2,500,000.

Last February Mr. Muckley died and John H. Booth, for sixteen years associated with the department, immediately began negotiations with Mr. Finnell to become his associate.

Mr. Finnell's duties will be to travel over the entire United States and parts of Canada, negotiating these loans and assisting churches to lay plans for the meeting of their installments. This will require about one-half of his time. The remainder will be spent in the St. Louis offices.

Since coming to Paris six years ago Mr. Finnell has been active in all efforts for the religious and civic betterment of Paris and Lamar county. Because of his activities as roll call chairman for the Lamar chapter of the American Red Cross, he was sent to the national convention at Washington, D. C., in 1924. For fifteen months he was president of the Paris Lions club and represented that organization at the international convention of Lions clubs in San Francisco last July.

For several years Mr. Finnell has been a director of Carr-Burdette college at Sherman and of the Courier Publishing company of Dallas, La., where he served as vice president of the state convention of Christian churches and is at present the president of the State Board of Education of the District of Columbia.

Mr. Finnell says that this new work will not prevent his ministry from the pulpit, but that he will preach almost every Sunday in whatever church he happens to be.

BONHAM STREET CHURCH RECEPTION FOR TONIGHT

A reception will be held this evening at Bonham street Methodist church, from 7:30 to 9:30, for an informal social gathering, to further acquaintance among the members. Music, a few toasts and light refreshments will be the features added to the pastor, Rev. J. H. Scrimshire, and Rev. William Kendall of Idabel, Okla., will be among the speakers. The church members, their families and friends with those from other churches are invited.

REV. C. A. THARP TO PREACH AT HOPEWELL

Rev. C. A. Tharp, on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock will preach at Hopewell Baptist church on "Building the Scaffold Hang the Other Fellow," and he says he will point out in person his greatest enemy. He has several sub-topics bearing on the same theme, and some special music has been prepared for the occasion, including orchestra selections, a quartet and a solo by Miss Daisy Carpenter. Mr. Tharp says the church will be comfortably heated for the service.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR HAS GOOD PROGRAM

The Christian Endeavor of the First Congregational church is showing real development in its work and had an unusually good program Sunday night. The numbers were given by Doris Warner and Jennie Bell. Crimes, Mary Elizabeth and Frances Pritchard and Daisy Ivey.

A large attendance, including one new member, was present, and an even greater number is looked for.

SOCIETY

American Literature Club Officers

Officers for the coming two years were elected Wednesday afternoon by the American Literature club at a meeting held at the home of Miss Lera Brock on South Main street.

Mrs. J. H. Bentley is president. Mrs. Blake Lee, vice president; Miss Ruth Hudson, recording secretary; Mrs. C. E. Weaver, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. B. Strong, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Crook, critic; Miss Bessie Lou Alford, reporter.

The course of study, as outlined in the program of lessons suggested by Miss Helen Edwards, Miss Merle Brazleton and Mrs. Bentley, is a general study of current literature, including travel, fiction, biography, poetry and philosophy. Lessons were assigned and the members will prepare their programs accordingly.

Reports from the treasurer and committees were heard.

The hostess served a salad with tea to the members and Mrs. J. E. Rayford of Henderson, a guest. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, January 26, with Mrs. Weaver on Graham street.

NAME MEN'S BANQUET RECEPTION COMMITTEE

The following men have been appointed to act as a reception committee at the men's banquet Friday evening, and will meet at the church at 6:30 p. m. The pastor's study and the brotherhood room will be heated, lighted, and opened for this occasion. These good men are to take the lead in a fellowship and get acquainted hour before they repair to the banquet room.

The committee includes: J. L. Hammen, chairman; J. C. Lane, vice chairman; Bob Berry, Herman Coker, Jess Alford, Ed Haynes, S. H. Hancock, G. T. Coleman, E. S. Crowley, J. C. DeShong, J. S. Patrick, Claude Ferguson, W. A. Hutchison, R. T. Hunt, Jr., Roy Dunham, Rufus Edwards, Blake Lee, T. McDaniel, Fred Russell, Arnold Wilkins, and Rev. Frank M. Richardson, ex officio.

Railroad Man to Be Lion Speaker

O. B. Webb, assistant to the president of the Texas and Pacific railroad, will be the principal speaker today at the Lions club luncheon at the Gibraltar hotel. J. O. Pirtle, who is in charge of the program, announces that the numbers will also include a solo by Mrs. Frank Fuller, and a reading by Little Miss Johnnie LeWayne Clark of Howland. Mr. Webb will have a topic of interest generally to business men, and the Lions will be sure to welcome him as a guest and speaker.

ALLEGED FORGER IS STILL IN LAMAR JAIL

Frank Sullivan, reported to have confessed to forgery and swindling in connection with an alleged transaction involving purchase and sale of hides, was still in Lamar county jail Wednesday under bond totaling $6,000. He waived preliminary hearing in three charges of forgery and one of swindling, the bond in each case being $1,500. Sullivan is said to be about 35 years old. His arrest in Rains county followed a search of many hours by officer Charlie Baughman. Authorities had no clue to start work on the case but the man was located after an automobile was identified as one in which he is said to have driven to Hugo where the furs were disposed of.

TWO WAIVE HEARINGS ON LIQUOR CHARGES

Preliminary hearings on a charge of possessing liquor for sale were waived in justice court Wednesday by Gurley Oliver and Mrs. Gurley Oliver of Paris. Mrs. Oliver was released on $500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Parrott. Oliver, late yesterday, had not made similar bond, set by Justice Shanklin. The couple were arrested Tuesday night by county and city authorities.

PLACED IN FEDERAL JAIL ON LIQUOR LAW CHARGE

HUGO, Okla., Jan. 19.—T. B. Lawson, arrested at Tushahoma on a charge of possessing a still, has been taken by Lee Pierce, deputy United States marshal, to the federal jail at Muskogee, in default of a $1,000 bond fixed in commissioner's court here. Lawson was arrested by V. H. Hicks, federal enforcement officer.

Detailed Report of Work Done by Club Women and Girls of County is Given

The following tabulation is the detailed report of the value of the home extension work done by only about 200 members of the Women's and Girls' clubs of Lamar county during 1926. Total membership in the women's clubs is 360 and that of the girls' clubs 170. The grand total of work valued in dollars and cents is quoted at $78,861.25. This volume of actual home production has been attained in only the two years that Miss Lida Cooper has been in charge of this work.

Assuming the 200 reporting have an average family of five—or 1500 individuals, the average Lamar county has 60,000 population. If all the county could make the same showing, multiply above results by forty and the answer for the county is seen.

Sidelights On The Movies

Claire MacDowell is a busy and active actress. She played Claire Windsor's aunt in "A Little Journey," has been cast as Joan Crawford's aunt in "The Taxi Dancer," and was Norma Shere's aunt in "A Slave of Fashion." She was Ramon Novarro's mother in "Ben-Hur" and John Gilbert's mother in "The Big Parade."

Art in motion pictures has been judged by educators worthy of exhibition in the salon of the new Los Angeles public library. Charles drawings by leading film artists taken from their work in recreating scenes of the life of Christ for the Biblical picture, "The King of Kings," compose the display.

The eye of the movie camera, keen to expose imitation jewelry, was almost fooled by the film research laboratories. Science discovered that paste gems, if subjected for a time to radium's rays, would out-photograph temporarily the genuine stones. A check of the tests, however, showed the radium necessary for practical application of the discovery would cost more than the precious stones.

Vilma Banky has mastered the English language so well that she was able to make her first personal appearance in an American film theatre this month.

When Miss Banky came to America about two years ago from Budapest she knew German and French but only about fifty words of English.

Pola Negri, a purchaser of rare first editions, is on the catalogue mailing list of nearly every noted bibliographer of the world.

"A motion picture is good when the spectators derives from it a satisfaction similar to seeing an expert bridge player make a close bid." The simile is that of Erich Pommer, European producer, now at Hollywood.

"One gets used to being the mountain goat of the pictures," remarked Tom Mix, "but outriding avalanches and skipping chasms is not the worst of it. The altitude often makes such hard play exhausting, and even painful."

Two hundred extras drew their salaries at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer lot for eating ice cream sundaes and drinking ice cream sodas. They were part of a dance hall scene. The action called for a well patronized soda fountain so one was installed with real soda "jerkers" to operate it. More than fifty gallons of ice cream and hundreds of sodas were consumed. Facts about Child Birth

FOR the expectant mother's comfort and well being, there is nothing that equips Mother's Friend—its highly refined oils and other wonderful ingredients quickly commends it to the thoughtful mother. Through the daily use of Mother's Friend the skin is made soft and pliable—thus aiding Nature to do her part without the unnecessary discomfort and pain. This is why Mother's Friend has proven such a blessing to expectant mothers for over three generations. Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician. It is safe for you to use because it contains no harmful drugs and is applied externally. "I will tell all my friends about Mother's Friend," writes Mrs. Geo. Abraham, Princeton, Ill. "It is a wonderful help all through the period of pregnancy. I used it from my first pregnancy and my mother and grandmother—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield's Regulator Co., Dept. 25, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet, 'Motherhood and the Coming Baby' (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during pregnancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. 'Mother's Friend' is sold by all druggists everywhere.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Your Income Tax No. 3

The normal tax rate under the revenue act of 1926 is 1 1/2 per cent on the first $4,000 in excess of the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc., 3 per cent on the next $4,000, and 5 per cent on the balance.

The surtax rates apply to net income in excess of $10,000, as in the revenue act of 1924. The maximum rate, however, under the 1926 act, is reduced to 20 per cent, which applies to net income in excess of $100,000, instead of a maximum of 40 per cent on net income in excess of $500,000, as was provided by the 1924 act.

The exemptions are $1,500 for single persons, and $3,500 for married persons living together, and heads of families. In addition a taxpayer is entitled to a credit of $400 for each person dependent upon him for chief support if such person is under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective. Such dependent need not be a relative of the taxpayer nor a member of his household. The term "mentally or physically defective" includes not only cripples and those mentally defective but persons in ill health and the aged.

A taxpayer, though unmarried who supports in his home one or more relatives over whom he exercises family control, is the head of a family and entitled to the same exemption allowed a married person. Also he may claim $400 for each dependent. For example, a widower who supports in his home an aged mother and daughter 17 years old is entitled to an exemption of $3,500 as the head of a family, plus a credit of $400 for each dependent, a total of $4,300. The $400 credit, however, does not apply to the wife or husband of a taxpayer, though one may be totally dependent upon the other.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK

A LESSON IN ECONOMY BY THE CITY STEAM

THRIFT

IT DOES COST MORE TO HAVE YOUR WASHING DONE AT HOME

By the same token it DOES cost LESS to have your laundry done at the City Steam—it's by far the thriftier and more satisfactory method.

And now during THRIFT WEEK, is the time to dispense with this unnecessary expense and its incumbent worries and troubles.

Mentally calculate what the cost would be to have your laundry done at home, the washerwoman's hire, plus soap, powders, starch, blueing, special apparatus, fuel, etc., plus the danger of pieces pilfered from the line and potent danger of germ contraction.

All this simply against calling 21 or 22 and time you save as washday and eliminating laundry troubles from your mind—besides having your laundry done for less.

And the satisfaction of knowing your clothes are cleaned by sanitary methods in a sanitary plant.

Western Expanse of Texas Fools English Visitor

LUBBOCK, Tex., Jan. 19, (AP).—John Gould Fletcher, prominent in poetic circles of America and England, hailed by literary exponents as a leading example of modern rhymesters, evidently knows his grammar but he's not so strong on geography.

Fletcher was engaged several weeks ago for a lecture and reading here tonight at the Texas Technological College after he had made a similar contract to appear last night at the College of Industrial Arts, Denton. After filling his Denton engagement the learned gentleman, a resident of London, discovered to his dismay that it is farther from Denton to Lubbock than from London to Edinburg. He will appear here at a later date a telegram explains.

COLLEGIANS TO GIVE 'CAPTAIN APPLEJACK'

The Collegiate Players of Paris Junior college will present "Captain Applejack" on Friday evening at the high school auditorium, with a capable cast, under direction of Mrs. R. L. Latimore.

The plot is a well developed one, fantastic and ridiculous in places, and warranted to hold the interest of the audience. Bob Hancock has the title role, Eunice Fisher Haynes plays the "villainess," and other characters include Clara Billingsley, Louise Beatie, Joe King, Charlotte Crook, William Fitzpatrick and Frank Mills. The play was originally planned to be given during the Christmas holidays but it was postponed on account of other entertainments, and affairs which would have conflicted.

Takes It Straight

NEW YORK.—Babe, a big truck horse, with a back like a pool table, likes his coffee black. Babe was a hospital patient recently, suffering a strained leg. Doctors found he had water in the blood and recommended coffee and plenty of it. Babe drinks a full every morning before starting to work, but refuses it with cream.

MADE HARDSHIPS EASY IN CANADIAN WILDS

Surveyors kept in fine trim by simple first-aid measure

A member of a survey party, sent out by the government of British Columbia to do subdivision work three hundred miles from civilization reports that the men were kept in fine trim throughout the trip by a simple first-aid measure.

"The chief brought along as a part of our first-aid supply a bottle of Sloan's Liniment," he writes. "And through weeks of exposure and hardship we found it our best help for sprains, bruises, stiff muscles and rheumatism."

Sloan's gives real relief because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It helps your body to throw off the cause. Just a little Sloan's patted on lightly—and a healing tide of fresh, new blood is sent right to the place that hurts. The aching and stiffness are helped right away. Get a bottle today. WHERE LIES THE BLAME?

IT'S nice to be an optimist and see the brighter side of everything, but every so often some little thing happens that makes you stop and wonder if our "civilization" couldn't be greatly improved somewhere.
In Ingersoll, Okla., there lived an old hermit. He inhabited a sort of shack and cave on a vacant lot, earned five dollars a month as night
watchman, and raised "garden truck."
He was quiet, rather queer, but harmless.
He had two pets; a cat and a dog, his only friends. His sole recreation consisted in scraping away on a violin.

The boys in the neighborhood used to tease
the old fellow, it seems; just how is not clear,
but apparently they found several ways in which they could show their boyish disapproval of so strange and queer a person.

Last fall he fell on hard times. He had to sell his violin. Then he found his pet cat poisoned. A little later someone enticed his dog away.
For a whole day he hunted the dog. At last he found it—shot to death.

The hermit thereupon got a gun, hunted up
a 13-year-old boy who, he believed, was responsible, and killed him.

He pleaded guilty. The judge, struck by the tragic aspects of the case, offered him a life term.

"No," said the hermit. "Life is no use to me. I'm old, I'm failing in strength, I'm going blind and life is a burden to me. Electro-cute me and get it over."

So sentence was pronounced. On March 15,
in the Oklahoma penitentiary, the old hermit will shuffle down a corridor to the death chamber and part with the life he no longer wants.

There's the story. It is, if you please, a tragedy as bleak as any of the dark outpourings
of the Russian dramatists. Tragedy for the boy, possibly innocent; tragedy for his mother and father; and tragedy, simple, dumb and poignant,
for the pestered, lonely old hermit.

The only solution that our civilization can find is to electrocute the pathetic old man!

What is the solution, anyway? It's hard to tell. But somewhere in our vaunted social fabric—the same fabric that is interwoven with gorgeous colors of mighty cities, brave heroes,
high ideals and shimmering hints of dim-veiled righteousness—there is something tragically wrong.

NEW YORK FINALLY CATCHES ON

ONE hates to say it, but it is impossible to escape the impression that New York, after all, is just a little behind the times.

The New York newspapers have become vastly excited during the last few days because they have found there a lady barber, who runs a shop for the patronage of men. This esteemed lady has been held up as one of the modern wonders of the world. There is a sort of "what won't we up-to-date New Yorkers do next?" note
in all the stories about her.

Well, probably that IS something to get excited about—in New York.

But it is a good many years since we first saw a barber shop run by ladies. There has been one, to be explicit, in Kansas City for a number of years. Other western cities had them before Kansas City. In most of them the idea is so old that nobody thinks twice about it.

Of course, it isn't important.

But somehow, you can't help feeling that
New York, every now and then catches on to something that is an old, old story to the rest of the country—and thinks it has made a discovery?

A HUGE SAVINGS FUND

BY the end of 1926 savings bank deposits amounted to $24,296,000,000, owned by more than 46,762,000 persons. This was an average of about $211 per capita. The year 1926
showed a volume of savings about $1,500,000,000
greater than 1925, and the number of depositors
was 3,000,000 in excess of 1925. Between 1912
and 1916 there was a decline in the volume of savings, and also in the number of depositors.

This large sum of savings deposits does not include the millions of checking accounts, nor
the approximately $700,000,000 in stock of corporations held by wage earners employed, nor the millions in savings invested in other corporations, nor the 3,400,000 school children with savings in 11,370 school banks totaling $32,000,000,
nor the thousands of building and loan associations holding prospective real estate investments totaling some $4,000,000,000, nor various postal savings accounts.

It is estimated that the plan of Christmas club savings has added 7,500,000 individuals to the army of persons saving many millions annually for the Christmas season.

This is an impressive showing of the thrift and wealth of the United States. It is a conclusive answer to the claim that this country is headed for an economic and social collapse.

Now that the trans-Atlantic telephone is working, the next thing you'll see is some commuter rushing for the 7:47 to get to his office in Pleasantville on time.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

BORAH RETREATS

From New York Journal of Commerce.

SENATOR BORAH hopes that the American forces will be withdrawn from Nicaragua
"just as soon as it can be ascertained that Americans are reasonably safe." This is very feeble piping from an opponent of "dollar diplomacy"
who set out with such noise and flourish to threaten investigations of the policy of the State Department in its dealings with Nicaragua. Had the chairman of the Foreign Relations committee clung to his expressed intentions he might have made things very unpleasant for the administration, although he might not have accomplished anything very positive so far as Nicaragua is concerned. After all, congressional investigations are time-consuming, and time is everything
when it is a question of discouraging rebellious
factions in minor states invaded by the forces of a great power.

Perhaps, then, Senator Borah may be able to justify himself a course of conduct which on the surface will appear to Europe and South America to be a rather ignominious retreat from his earlier position which had been enthusiastically applauded by the opponents of "dollar diplomacy." Whatever the strategic reasons (and Senator Borah knows how to be an orthodox Republican in emergencies), there is no question
that a retreat has been executed by the senator.
He must realize that the mere presence of the American troops in Nicaragua in the territory
where they are stationed is a denial of neutrality
in the fight between the two Nicaraguan factions,
since the extension of the neutral zone occupied by the marines appears to have been consistently crippling the liberal forces.

Talk of this sort is, however, mere waste of words. We are in Nicaragua for a purpose, and doubtless we shall remain until that purpose is accomplished. Why should Senator Borah make himself unnecessarily unpopular in a vain cause?

FARM GIRLS AND PRETTY CLOTHES

From New York Times.

CLOTHING for civilized woman is just about the same the world over. A traveler journeying rapidly from Hongkong to Budapest, thence to Paris, New York, San Francisco and Melbourne, would find no more change in the styles
than those which had occurred during the period of his trip. Small towns and large, at home and abroad, the fashion is uniform.

The movies may justly claim the credit or take the blame, for this state of affairs. Simultaneous and universal distribution of films gives every girl an equal chance to copy the beautiful clothes-horse heroine.

A word of praise for one section of the feminine population that is holding out against utter uniformity has been spoken by the head of the household department of the Teachers' College of Indianapolis, Miss Chenoweth. She has made a thorough survey in Indiana, and finds that the farm girls dress better, with more distinction, than the city girls, and that they do it on less money. It can hardly be said that they are less subject to the insidious influence of film flappers, for they get into town often enough. They must be more individualistic, more dependent on their own resources and
inclined to develop along lines of their own choosing.

Does their superiority, one wonders, extend to other things? Do they also cook better, keep house better, manage husbands and children better? A survey which would answer these questions would be useful.

Oregon says the best job for an ex-president of Mexico is farming. You'd think the land down there would be pretty well tilled.

A writer says that the modern woman does not want a man who can satisfy her smallest wish. No, what she wants is one who can attend to the larger ones.—Punch.

Jekyll and Hyde

By Olive Roberts Barton

A CERTAIN king refused to have his portrait painted by a well-known artist. It was an unusual thing for a king to do for it was quite
in the order of things for royalty and other celebrities to sit for the artist in question.

Now, this famous artist (now deceased), had
a habit of seeing things in people's faces that no one else saw there. And as likely as not at the unveiling, one was likely to behold himself as cheer leader for one old man Mephistopheles,
when all the time he'd been thinking himself
a deuce of a nice fellow.

The kind jolly king knew this. He was satisfied with himself and his subjects were satisfied with him. Why upset the whole apple-cart and start the gossip?

One time a family of girls who were bringing up father, persuaded pater familias to have this same portrait painter do him in oil.

Pater familias didn't want to be done in oil
and he didn't want to be done for fifty thousand dollars. But it was three to one, so he went.

He was a hard-fisted old skinflint and had the reputation of thinking more of a nickel than most people do of their right thumbs. As he sat for his portrait he may have been thinking of the fifty thousand dollars that would never more draw interest in four and a half per cent municipal bonds, or he may have tried to look that terrible
look that had scared the world into handing him
ten million dollars.

But whatever it was he sat there with an expression that a theatrical director would have loved to star in a droll screen.

The artist never said a word, but painted away. There emerged in time the most benign kindly gentleman you can imagine. Father looked out of the canvass at an amazed world with a sweet generosity that would have put Buddha
to shame.

Proud? Well, the picture is not in the attic. It hangs inside the front door blessing
all who enter and smiling a benediction to all who leave.

Father now writes large checks for charity,
and has increased wages at the mill.
Moral: There are two people in all of us.

OUT OUR WAY

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Today's lesson is about Nicaragua,
where hell is likely to start popping momentarily.

Nicaragua, bounded by Honduras
on the north and Costa Rica on the south, has an area of 49,200
square miles and a population, according to the last available figures, of 638,119.

The capital is Managua, a city
of 60,342 souls, and the largest city
is Leon, with about 70,000.

Two mountain ranges traverse the country. On the plateau level is fairly pleasant, but on the coast
and in the lowlands it is altogether too hot.

The dry season runs from December to April and the rainy season from May to November in the western section of the country,
but in the eastern part it rains all
the year around.

Food and Exports
Nicaragua exports coffee, cabinet woods, rubber, sugar, bananas,
gold, silver and hides. She grows tobacco, cotton, cacao, maize and wheat. Her principal items of food are maize and beans.

Agriculture and mining are the chief industries. Corn is the principal crop, but most of it is eaten
at home. Sugar production is greater than in any other Central American state. Coffee represents 27 per cent of total exports and sugar 22 per cent. Production of gold varies. It arose to a high mark of 20 per cent of the export total in 1915.

The educational system is not so good. Free primary education is compulsory for children between the ages of 5 and 14. Facilities are good for free higher instruction.

Nicaragua declared her independence from Spain along with the other Central American provinces in 1821 and was part of the Federation of Central America
which blew up.

The republic is governed by a constitution proclaimed in 1911.
Power of legislation is vested in a Congress composed of a Senate and Chamber of Deputies. The country is divided into departments slightly similar to our states. The departments are represented at Managua by one deputy for every 15,000 inhabitants and one senator for every two deputies. Deputies are elected for four years and senators for six years. As in this country, the Senate has the most prestigious duties; deputies must be 25

years old and senators 40.

Presidential Election
The president is elected by a majority popular vote to serve four years. He must be a native citizen of Nicaragua and over 30 years of age. If no candidate receives a majority vote in the election, the Congress meets in joint session to select a president from the two candidates polling the largest vote.

A vice president is chosen similarly and simultaneously. If the president fails to function the vice president takes over the duties of his office.

The president has a cabinet consisting of six secretaries of state,
for government and police, for foreign relations, public instruction,
treasury and public credit, war and marine and fomento justice and public works.

The highest judicial body is the national supreme court, composed of five magistrates. There are three courts of appeal, sitting at Granada, Leon and Bluefields, as well as various minor courts.

The normal peace-time army
consists of 4000 men and 30,000
reserve troops. One year of military service is compulsory. The navy consists of eight small steamboats, manned with guns and ordinarily used to prevent smuggling.

Under the constitution, all foreigners enjoy the civil rights of Nicaraguans and are governed by the same laws and authorities. They are subject to the same taxes as Nicaraguans and may not make claims or demands indemnities in cases where Nicaraguans could not do so. Appeal to diplomatic channels is forbidden except in cases of denials of justice. A foreigner is banned from the country who acts in violation of this provision and whose claim is not brought to a friendly settlement.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Times
and styles change amusingly. Not so many years ago it was supposed to be the mark of the European virtuoso that he have long hair and a beard patterned after the second act of "La Boheme."

Paderewski's tossing mane was taken as a standard and, to this day, cartoonists love to picture the esthetic young musicians with curls all but dangling down their backs.

Yet the popular young moderns
of the music world might easily be mistaken for well-groomed bond salesmen from Wall Street. Of six I have heard this winter but one seemed to need a hair cut, and I'm inclined to think that the length of his crop really was the result of a week's delay in barbering.

Kochanski, one of the most popular violinists of Manhattan
just now is slender, well-barbered
and easily could get a role in the movies if he could pass a film test.
Kemperer, dynamic German director, who now wields the baton
for the New York Symphony,
while thick of hair, has no locks
to fly in the wind, and Toscanini
of the Philharmonic actually looks as though a little hair tonic would do no harm.

On the other hand long, shen-sels of pre-bob era now seem to mark a majority of feminine musicians. A few, of the more modern school have taken to the loose
bob, though none I have seen have eared the dangers of a boyish bob.

And those representatives of "solid
music"—almost to a man, or rather to a woman—clinging to woman's crowning glory.

The music season, by the way,
reaches its peak in Manhattan just
at this season.

To glance beyond the doorways
of Aeolian or Carnegie halls is to behold a chaos of announcements
and a dizzy array of notable names. The real music-lover would have to keep going day and night and bob up several places at the same time to attend any appreciable percentage of the concerts.

BELT HUMOR

Far Too Risky

A garrulous guest was attending the party. She impressed upon all the other people the greatness of her ancestors.

She had brought the family album along with her and showed everyone the photos, at the same time giving a brief account of their lives.

"And this one," continued the
bore, "was killed in a feud."

"How unfortunate," murmured
a well-tailored youth, "I always feel nervous myself when driving in one of those cheap cars."—Answers, London.

His Guess

"My poor husband was a wonderful artist," sighed the landlady, as she hacked at the pie crust, "and always said he found inspiration
in my cooking."

"A sculptor, I presume," said the gloomy boarder, surveying his bent fork.—Tit Bits, London.

Days of Culture

"Going to put your fighter into the films?"
"If I can find a story with sufficient literary merit to suit him."
—Kansas City Star.

As Usual

"This may hurt a little," said the absent-minded dentist as he changed to his nibbler, "but it will be over in just a minute."—Green Grocer.

Using His Head

The elderly country doctor whose practice had fallen off considerably sat in his office reading when his benchman appeared.

"Them boys is a-stealing you
green apples away?" he said.

"Shall I drive them away?" The doctor considered a moment and then leveling his eye at his servant, replied, "No."—Kansas South Owl.

Running a Restaurant

"This running a restaurant is hard work."

Elb

"If I have pork and beans every day, my customers get tired. If I don't they go somewhere else."
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

A Strange Case

"My least boy, Bearcat, is 7
years old today," in the crossroads said a disappointed Gap Johnson of Rumple Ridge.

"I never would have thought it,"
said Sam Slabby. "I don't see how in torment a kid could get that dirty in seven years."—Kansas City Times.

Failing Appetites

The price of food was very large.
His appetite began to fail.
He simply paid the cover charge
and drank a glass of ginger ale.
—Washington Star.

Figures of Speech

"Who are you?"
"Sir," answered the bill collector, "I am inflexibility."
"I am politeness," said the other,
entering into the spirit of the episode.

Then we shall get along all right. Politeness pays,—"Louisville Courier-Journal.

Reverse English

S. E. Nicholson, organizer and secretary of the Anti-Saloon League, said at a dinner in Washington:

"The fall elections do not discourage us. Prohibition will be enforced yet. It would be enforced today, but—"

Mr. Nicholson frowned.

"But too many authorities," he ended, "work against prohibition secretly. Pretending to uphold it,
they hold it up."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

"A Thought for Today"

Carlyle who has been referred to as "a trip-hammer with an aeolian attachment," was as rugged, according to legend, in his attire as he was in his manner. At least an English
"cabby" found that so. And so he remarked to a fellow driver, "Queer 'at that fellow wears." "He may have a queer 'at," replied his partner, "but what would you give for the 'ead-piece inside of it?"

That "queer" neighbor of yours may have a thinking head and a bank account. And it is his courage and his indifference to what you think that makes him successful. He wastes no time in wondering—he dreams
his dreams and works toward them. In his apparent
"queerness" he preaches the doctrine of Success. It is the idea INSIDE of the hat, not the hat, that counts.

DAIRY MEETING AT CHICOTA TONIGHT

Farm Specialists and Creamery Concern Representatives to Speak

Plans for expanding the dairy industry in the Chicota section will be discussed at a meeting tonight which is to be addressed by Jules Record, Paris manager of the Southern Ice and Utilities company. Harry Baker, president of the Lamar State Bank and Trust company, J. R. Milling, and Carl Tanner, county agent. The meeting is to be held at the instance of the Chicota citizens who have expressed interest in the cream marketing system of the Southern Creameries company. The methods employed in handling of cream at the Paris and Roxton cream stations is to be explained by the speakers and practical suggestions offered on all phases of dairy development. Cream is being received at the stations in quantities far above expectations of the Southern Creameries company. Mr. Record said Wednesday. He predicted profitable development of the industry in the county.

GRAND OINTMENT MAKES PIMPLES AND BLOTCHES GO

Ever since the introduction in this country of the wonderful Black and White Ointment, and Skin Soap, skin specialists say that such troubles as pimples, blotches, bumps, rash, tetter, eczema, "breaking out," etc., are becoming fewer every year. Wide distribution of Black and White Ointment, and Skin Soap, has made it possible for millions of people to get the benefit of this wonderful, quick effect in clearing disfigured skin and making it smooth and good to look at. Dealers everywhere say they are selling faster than anything of a similar nature they have ever handled, and they attribute this popularity to the low prices at which they are sold, as well as their dependability. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.—Adv.

Large Class of Candidates to be Inducted on Friday Evening

Friday night has been set by the Elks lodge for the initiation of a large class of candidates, and the ceremony, which begins at 7:30, will be followed by a smoker and dinner at the rooms on Lamar avenue. The Elks are evidencing considerable interest in the coming state convention to be held in Houston in April, which the order is planning to make a very elaborate entertainment. Several members of the Paris lodge are contemplating attending the sessions. J. W. Bell, exalted ruler of the Paris lodge, says that the advancement and development of the Paris lodge in the past few months has been more noticeable than for the past several years, and he has high hopes of its continuation. The lodge plans soon to have a large elk head, the official emblem of the order, with each antler tip illuminated by electric lights placed outside the building on Lamar avenue, adding much to its appearance.

Development Seen In J. C. Penny Co.

The J. C. Penny company, this year, will celebrate its twenty-fifth or silver anniversary. The first store having been opened in 1902. During this quarter of a century, the business has grown to a nationwide institution of 773 department stores, scattered over all but two of the forty-eight states. Twenty-eight additional stores will be opened this coming spring and even a larger number in the fall. The Idaho-Idaho chain of the Food and Van Engelen Company Golden Rule stores has recently been purchased and added to the J. C. Penny company system. The total sales of the combined stores, in 1926, was $115,682,737.86—an increase of nearly $25,000,000 over the business of the previous year. This is a rather remarkable testimonial to the shopping service that extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

SEES HELP TO FILMS IN LITTLE THEATRE

LONDON—The Little Theatre movement is credited by Director Clarence Brown with having made possible the so-called highbrow screen drama. It has prepared an audience, he says, for motion pictures based upon the drama of Sudermann and other classicists of the stage.

"The Little Theatre," says Brown, "while it may not exactly have popularized its dramas, has so placed them before the public that they have aroused interest sufficient to justify their being placed on the screen. When they are screened, with proper direction and modern technique, they make the greatest of film drama and more than that, create a demand for a better type of picture and a more lasting type of drama."

"They therefore are doing a great work in raising the art of the screen to a parallel of that of the stage. Formerly the public seemed to accept on the stage works that would not be accepted in the films, which, because of wide distribution had to have things more popular in scope."

"The public, through the Little Theatre, came to have a bowing acquaintance with the new drama and a more intimate knowledge of it. Thus the Little Theatre has done a great good, even though it has reaped a meager reward for it."

The Home Garden Helps Reduce the High Cost of Living

Quality Best Reason for Garden

There are many reasons why every one with a little plot of ground at his disposal should have a vegetable garden, economy health, exercise, but chief of all is the fact that only in home-grown vegetables ready at hand to be gathered for the table can the full and highest quality of a vegetable be realized.

Perhaps it may be more economical to buy fresh vegetables in the market if one figures his time on the basis of his daily income. That all depends upon the income. The convenience of having a supply within handy reach of the kitchen door when needed is recognized, but quality is the one thing that is not purchasable.

Sugary peas and sugary sweet corn defy the market gardener through the processes of nature which change their sugars into starch a short time after they have been removed from the plants. Lettuce loses its crispness, and other vegetables the tang that fresh gathering carries with it.

America, up to very recent years, has not depended upon vegetables for its chief meals. They were merely side dishes Europeans live almost entirely on vegetables in the southern countries, as compared with the American meat diet. We have learned that we need a more extended vegetable diet and it is developing. Infants are now started on vegetables before they are a year old. It is an excellent plan as they develop into vegetable eaters, naturally and their health, through a balanced diet will be correspondingly more robust.

Fresh vegetables for the babies and young children are indispensable. The home garden is the sure way to have them and now is the time to get the crops growing to furnish this food in the early part of the year.

Discovering two boys helping themselves to apples in his orchard the peer gave each a resounding kick in the pants. Next day the boys were found loitering near the orchard again.

"Didn't I warn you boys what you would get if I caught you round here again?" His Lordship shouted.

"Yes sir," came the ready response. "We came this time to ask you if you'd join our football team."

Chapter 112
After Faith had been revived by the hot tea—she could not pretend even to nibble at the toast, which came in great, soggy wedges—Bob led her to where his car was parked near the courthouse. Although her whole body was trembling with weakness, and her mind registered almost nothing but a dull, unbelieving horror, she held her head high and even managed to smile slightly as the click-clack of cameras warned her that every moment of hers was recorded for the insatiably curious public.

"But I don't see," she protested weakly, tears beginning to run in a thin, unheeded stream down her cheeks, now that they were safely away in Bob's car, "how the papers came out so—so soon."

Bob's face was drawn with fatigue and worry about the girl at his side, and about that other girl over in the county jail, who was undoubtedly aware now of the blow which had fallen upon her bright, proud head. But his voice matter-of-factly, almost cheerful, as he answered: "Oh, that's easy to explain, darling. As soon as Banning sent out word to the waiting reporters that the grand jury had returned a—'true bill' against Cherry and Chris, the reporters telephoned their city editors and within a minute the extras were on the streets. I shouldn't have let you wait," he reproached himself.

"You couldn't have dragged me away," Faith told him simply. "Will they let me see Cherry—now? She'll need me, Bob. Oh, Cherry! Poor little Cherry!" She bowed her head on her trembling hands and let the tears trickle through her fingers.

"I don't know, dear, just what the district attorney will do now about visitors for Cherry. But I'll do my best to arrange things for you. You must go home now though, and I'll telephone to Banning and try to make him be reasonable. You've got to rest, Faith, or you'll go absolutely to pieces."

"They had driven almost to Myrtle Street before Bob spoke again. 'After all, darling, we had to expect this. I've tried to warn you that things look black for Cherry. There's no use mincing words now. The grand jury could hardly do less than indict—under the circumstances. Now we must concentrate all our efforts on running down the only two clues we have to the real murderer. Have you seen found any cringles yet, dear?' He rallied her with a smile which was infinitely tender.

His words braced her miraculously. "Thousands of people have been falsely accused of—of murder," she nodded bravely. "And after all, we have got two clues. Will you see Stephen Churchill tonight?"

"Of course," Bob reassured her. "Here we are. Why, here comes Long! I suppose they've heard And your father! Brace up, dear, for their sakes—"

"Hello, Bob!" Long Lane's hurtling run flung him against the car. "Don't let your engine. Come on, Dad! Hurry!" He tore open the rear door of the sedan.

"Where are you going, Junior?" Faith gasped. "We can't see her now—"

"Who, Cherry?" Long painted dry.

BRITONS APPEAR IN ANCIENT GARB

Prince of Wales Wears Yellow Shirt and Gaslee Dons Leather Waistcoat

LONDON, (P)—British men seem to be going back to the mid-Victorian fashions in their dress. J. C. Squire, editor of the London Mercury, is appearing these days in a dark gray jacket cut away over his waistcoat and buttoning closely up under a large wing collar.

Thomas Hardy sometimes wears coats like those of Squire. So does Clough Williams Ellis, the architect.

Wears Jacket of '60s. Probably the most sartorially daring man in London is Stephen Gaslee, the librarian of the Foreign Office, who wears leather waistcoats topped by jackets cut after the fashions of the '60s.

Gaslee has always been noted for being extraordinary. He had kangaroo steaks served at his twenty-first birthday dinner at Cambridge and the clothes he was seen wearing at the university were even more surprising than those in which he appeared at Whitehall.

He is a believer in ancient rites and ceremonies and is credited with reviving the custom at Cambridge of drinking from loving cups filled with "copas." Copas is an extraordinarily unpalatable brew made of spices, old ale and sherry, all muddled together and served with pieces of burned toast floating on the top.

Wales' Yellow Shirt. Members of the House of Commons who have adopted the style of appearing with orchids in buttonholes are increasing. Sir Harry Brittain has been indulging himself in pink orchids of late but the most regular wearer is Sir Vansittart Bowater. He probably wears a greater variety of flowers during the year than any other member.

The Prince of Wales has revived the yellow hunting shirt worn by

GERMAN ANTI-FILTH LAW IS CRITICIZED

BERLIN, (P)—Ridicule and derision continue to fall upon Germany's new censorship law aimed at trashy and indecent literature. Writers, artists and actors are continuing their campaign against the measure, although their protests were unheeded when it was enacted by the reichstag.

The liberal political parties are on the alert for possible confusion of their suspicions that there may be an effort to use the new boards of censorship as a means of stifling free speech. The law will operate through the boards of censorship of nine members each, including a neutral president. Two members represent authors and artists, two the art dealers and publishers, two the organizations and school teachers and two the youth and welfare organizations.

If six members vote against a book or periodical its sale and circulation will become illegal. Newspapers and magazines of the type of political and literary reviews are exempted.

Question Sisters Value

What will be the value of George Sisler to the St. Louis Browns in the coming season? There are plenty of baseball men who figure a trade, sending him elsewhere, would benefit the club in more ways than one. It is believed that the depositing of Sisler as manager is certain to handicap his work as a mere player on the club he once directed.

Plan Winter Sports

Winter sports is one of the big features at University of Wisconsin. Already preparations are being made for the winter carnival which will be staged sometime in February. This affair at Wisconsin rivals the one annually staged at Dartmouth. "Rube" Branlow, hockey coach, is in charge of the affair.

Northwestern Coach?

While much secrecy is being maintained as to who will succeed Glenn Thistlethwaite as football coach at Northwestern university, the impression grows that the selection will be a national figure in football circles. Northwestern, after getting a tie with Michigan for the Big Ten title, cannot afford to let down.

New York Cotton

NEW YORK, Jan. 19, (P)—Reiterated reports of expanding business in cotton goods and a continued steady spot situation, were reflected in further advances in the cotton market today. March selling up to 13.55 and July to 13.95. At these figures there was considerable realising, however, while there appeared to be a little more southern selling. March traded at 13.45, the mid-afternoon market ruling 2 or 3 points below yesterday's closing figures.

New Orleans Cotton

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 19, (P)—The cotton market was again fairly active today and prices were more two sided. Cables were much better than here and Liverpool reported spot sales of 15,000 bales. An early gain of 5 points responded to the strength of Liverpool. The early gain was lost on selling by ring traders, but late in the morning prices rallied again on scattered buying said to be due to a belief that ginnings would show a comparatively moderate total. March traded up to 13.54.

May to 13.73 and July to 13.89 or 10 to 11 points above the lows. After noon prices reacted on realizing and made new lows 12 to 13 points below the highs. Exports for the day totaled 29,933 bales.

Futures closed steady at a net decline of 5 to 8 points.

Fort Worth Livestock

FT. WORTH, Jan. 19, (P)—Hogs were fully steady, best of the she stock with slaughter yearlings and heifers and bulls steady. Beef steers were to sell lower if at all and calves declined a quarter to fifty cents. This was the situation in the live stock trade at Ft. Worth at noon Wednesday.

Beef cattle had found no owners at 1 o'clock, bids being a quarter lower and nobody anxious to sell. She stock received lower bids on all below the good beef grades and here the selling was about as the same on Tuesday. Say at $5.50 for the choice and $5.60 to $6.00 for right decent cows. Butchers cutters and the most desirable among the canners had to take off something, looked like a quarter.

Heifers at $3.24 and yearlings at $3.00 and $3.50 for loads were not far from steady.

Calves were still in the pen at noon and therefore, salesmen unwilling to turn loose on bids of a quarter to fifty cents lower.

Low costing bulls were chiefly sold during the morning at $4.25 to $4.50.

Hogs moved early at fully steady figures, shipper top $12.30, packer top $12.20, dead bloods $11.00. Pigs steady $11.25.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, Jan. 19, (P)—Doubt that the Argentine government is to buy wheat on a large scale in an effort to sustain values tended today to depress the market. Besides export demand for North American wheat was relatively small, and Liverpool quotations lower than due. World available supplies of wheat increased 3,387,000 bushels.

Wheat closed heavy, 3-8 to 7-8 net lower; corn 5-8 off, to 1-3 cup; oats 1-2 down to a shade advance.

Cash wheat No. 1 hard 146; No. 2 hard 144.

BILLY EVANS Says

Anent Grange's Ability While football is now more or less passe, the argument as to how great a player "Red" Grange really was continues.

It is possible to offer arguments pro and con as to Grange's true worth, but there is no denying that he is the most sensational performer the gridiron has produced in the last 10 years if not more.

There is a decided line of distinction between sensational and great. In a sense, Grange possessed both qualities to a marked degree.

Recently Glenn Warner, famous Stanford coach, in naming his all-time grid team, didn't give Grange much consideration. Said he was mighty good but there were a number of other halfbacks he rated "superior to Red."

Any time anyone takes the deeds of "Red" Grange to task a half dozen self-appointed supporters come forth in his behalf.

In Defense of "Red" "If the Big Ten has produced a better halfback than Grange in the last 10 years I wish someone would name him," writes Illini 1919.

"I have been watching Big Ten football for a score of years, played it myself, and to my way of thinking 'Red' Grange, Glipp of Notre Dame excepted, is as good a halfback as the west has seen in years."

"Detractors of Grange insist he was a poor defensive player. Coach Zuppke once answered that question for all time. I thought, by stating that it was ridiculous to insist on defensive play from a man who was a touchdown threat any time he got his hands on the ball."

"Grange could play a good defensive game. Any time as safety man he had to make a tough tackle, he seldom failed."

Had Two Big Years

In the same mail came another letter from a supporter of Grange, asking that I reproduce the achievements of "Red" on the gridiron in 1923 and 1924. It was in those two years that Grange thrilled the west in almost every game he played.

Going over my records I find that in 1924 Grange gained 1164 yards and made 13 touchdowns for Illinois.

His greatest performance was against Michigan when he gained the almost unbelievable total of 402 yards. He also went pretty well against Chicago, gaining an even 300 yards.

Had he not been stopped to a whisper in the Minnesota game, when the Illinois line failed to hold for him, Grange gaining only 56 yards, he would have topped his remarkable performance of 1923.

Most Remarkable Average

During the 1923 campaign, Grange, in seven games, gained 1269 yards, his best performance.

He was consistently good in every game that season. His best work was 231 yards against Northwestern, playing only 19 minutes. His low mark was 140 yards in 30 minutes against Wisconsin.

While Grange gained more yards in 1923 than in '24, his average was higher during the '24 season. That year he carried the ball 114 times and gained 1164 yards, a trifle better than 16 yards every time he tackled the ball under his arm.

No doubt there have been and will be better halfbacks than "Red" Grange, but it is a certainty his grid deeds will live as long as the game is played.

FARMING IN VIRGIN ISLES UNDEVELOPED

WASHINGTON, (P)—The desirability of building good roads and further developing agriculture in Virgin Islands, America's recently acquired possession in the Atlantic, is under consideration in congress on the basis of a picture of conditions painted by Captain Martin E. Trench, U. S. N. retired. As governor, Captain Trench has been administering the affairs of the islands for the last fifteen months.

The island of St. John, the smallest of the three composing the group, but comprising 20 square miles of territory, has not a single road for wheel traffic. Practically all of the food supplies of the islanders have to be imported. Certain kinds of native fish and fruits are consumed in limited quantities, but the staple articles, chiefly salted fish and cornmeal, come from the United States.

The department of agriculture has established an experiment station in St. Croix, with its 80 square miles, is devoted largely to the raising of sugar cane.

Fruit growing could be developed profitably in the islands, Governor Trench believes, and the islanders should be encouraged to raise vegetables, an industry that is almost entirely neglected.

Homesteading is another question. The land is held in large estates, the titles going back to the days of Danish ownership of the islands, and is titled by "squatters" or rent-payers instead of by home builders.

IS THERE NO RELIEF FROM SKIN TORTURE?

Must I Continue to Suffer the Unbearable Itching?

Are you one of those unfortunate who are going through life suffering from a skin disease, making you uncomfortable, making you less efficient, interfering with your working hours, ruining your sleep? You may have tried many things without relief. Why not try S.S.S.?

For more than 100 years it has been giving relief in many forms of skin disease. Thousands of letters of gratitude prove its worth. "I feel so happy for what S.S.S. has done for me that I want others to know about it. I suffered twenty long years from eczema. At times the itching was unbearable. During that time, I used all kinds of salves without receiving any real benefit. After taking six bottles of S.S.S., I was cured of this dreadful disease. I recommend S.S.S. to anyone suffering from eczema, because I cannot praise it enough for what it has done for me." Cleophas Forte, Soldiers and Sailors Home, Quincy, Ill.

S.S.S. is purely vegetable. It is extracted from the fresh roots of medicinal plants and herbs and gives to Nature what she needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

FLASHES

NEW YORK—Al Smith, Jimmy
Walker and George Olmeyer are all wearing black bowlers, and a master tailor, coming from London, says England is giving up the high hat in favor of the type of grey fedoras the New York Democrats have discarded.

NEW YORK—The biggest bank
in the world is now in this town.
Deposits of the National City bank
exceed a billion dollars.

LONDON—A non-inflammable film for movies is declared to be successful after a test in a theatre.
The inventor has been working on it for 14 years.

BOSTON—If anybody needs a corkscrew 225,000 have just arrived from France. They are no longer made in great quantities in this country, the importer explains.

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—Papuan
wives in the mountain gold country have to carry packs weighing as much as 150 pounds. Their husbands make them do it.

LOS ANGELES—Baron Wilhelm
Von Brinken made odious comparisons of his wife's beauty with that of other women, she testified, and she has won a divorce.
The baron, once German military attache here, is now a movie director.

NEW YORK—Mae Murray is furious over a joke which she cannot see. It was about her nose. A telegram sent by another woman to her husband and signed with Mae's name led to the inference that Mae's face had been improved, but she is quite satisfied
with her profile as it is naturally.

CHICAGO—If a person is angry
it's trouble seems to be the same thing that makes a match hot. Dr.
Gilbert J. Rich of the University of Chicago find that the blood of good natured people contains less phosphorus than that of others.

DEPORT

DEPORT, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Felix Stalls was hostess to the Social Club Tuesday afternoon at her home in East Deport. After several games of bridge and forty-two refreshments were served. Invited guests for the occasion were Mmes. Roger Kelsey, C. J. Jeffus and Jessie Stalls. The club will meet Feb. 1 with Mrs. Drew Allen.
Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jeffus were recent visitors in Paris.
T. T. Jeffus was in Paris Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Veteto and son, Elbert, Jr., were guests of his parents in Bogata Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John Webb came out from Paris Tuesday to spend a few days
with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.
O. Thompson.

Mrs. C. J. Jeffus and son went to Paris Monday to see her mother,
who is ill.

J. M. Grant and wife were business visitors in Paris Wednesday.
Bob Kinsey and Mrs. Henry Nobles were recent visitors in Paris.

Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Elder and family were guests of relatives in Clarkeville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Jeffus were visiting in Milton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Read, Mrs. S.
R. Jeffus and Mrs. Bob Read were Paris visitors Wednesday.

Mrs. Dean Oliver, who teaches piano and voice, presented her pupils in recital at the Methodist church Tuesday evening. A good crowd attended and everyone enjoyed the program.
